Reframing Human Services WEBINAR

Wednesday, December 4th, 2024
1:00 to 2:15pm

Join Illinois Partners for "Reframing Human Services," a conversation about how we talk about human services as a vital building block for community well-being. This training will focus on communication strategies to help us tell a better story about how our work is vital to ensuring that everyone is able to reach their full potential. We will also feature real life examples of reframing including an in-depth look at an organization that has been on a reframing journey for many years.

Technical assistance is offered after each training session to answer questions, address challenges or assist participants with new communication materials.

Webinar will be facilitated by Illinois Partners Staff with Guest Speaker & IL Partners Board Member, Kim Cornwell, CEO of EPIC

This training will share communication strategies to help us tell a better story of our work with the community to provide services, support, and connections that enable everyone to reach their full potential. We will also feature real life examples of reframing including an in-depth look at an Illinois organization who has been on their reframing journey for many years.

By highlighting human services as essential to everyone's ability to thrive, we can build stronger community connections and increase support for equitable policies and distribution of resources.

Technical assistance is offered after each training session to answer questions, address challenges, or assist participants with new communication materials.

Facilitators: Adela Carlin, Senior Director of Training and Community Partnerships and Katherine Cavanaugh, Training Manager

Guest Speaker: Kim Cornwell, Chief Executive Officer of EPIC and IL Partners Board Member
